Bulletin – Day 1 – 28 Dec 2006

Held at the Southern Cross Club, Tuggeranong

2006-07 Australian Open Chess Tournament

A Message from the Organisers

Several key sponsors were kind enough to support this event. The Mental Health Council of Australia (www.mhca.org.au) is the principal sponsor, providing $5000 of funds to this event, which they viewed as fitting their theme: “Be active for your mental health. Act. Belong. Commit.”

From Melbourne, a leading social and public health communication company, Convenience Advertising (www.conads.com) wanted to be associated with an intellectually challenging activity and offered sponsorship which supported us bringing GMs Johansen and Antic to the tournament. Somewhat in the same vein, the Sydney market research company instinct & reason (www.instinctandreason.com) saw chess sponsorship as a game that exemplified their theme. They provided support for GM Ian Rogers to be with us.

In Canberra the capacity building company QQR (www.qqsr.com) and the YMCA (www.ymca.canberra.org.au) joined forces to support a young GM, and we were fortunate to be able to support GM Mark Bluvshtein from Canada—their number 2 player and only 18 years of age.

Finally, the Tuggeranong Southern Cross Club itself also provides sponsorship for this event in recognition of an activity valuable to the community taking place in the Club premises.

The Open - Round 1

A total of 58 players have turned up to the excellent venue at the Southern Cross Club in Tuggeranong for the 2006-07 Australian Open, an 11 round Swiss. Featuring as it does 4 grandmasters – the two Australian GMs Ian Rogers and Darryl Johansen, and visiting foreigners Mark Bluvshtein (Canada) and Dejan Antic (Serbia), this event promises to be a very exciting one – especially when you add Australian IMs Zong-Yuan Zhao and Mirko Rujevic and FM Igor Goldenberg to the mix. Sadly, FM Jesse Sales and Moulthun Ly withdrew on the eve of the event – otherwise it would have been even stronger! Still, the Fischer time controls of 90 minutes per player with a 1 minute increment guarantee some exciting chess. Top seed Bluvshtein and second seed Rogers will almost certainly not have it all their own way...

Mind you, the titled players did not have too many difficulties in Round 1, as Rogers, Zhao, Antic and Johansen all won pretty convincingly. Some spectators thought Oleg Korenevski was doing OK on top board against Bluvshtein; but then suddenly it was over, and another GM had won. With Rujevic also a comfortable winner, only Goldenberg had a bit of a struggle against Ken Holt; while always better he took a long time to break through, eventually forcing a superior queen and rook ending and then realising he had mate in one! A few upset draws lower down, as Alex Jule fought hard to draw with Malcolm Tredinnick and Milan Grcic should have won, a bishop for a pawn up against Zhigen Wilson Lin; sadly for Milan he did not see how to break through the blockade. Perhaps the biggest upset was perpetrated by young West Australian Marc Vlietstra against amiable Kiwi visitor Hilton Bennett, who never seems to win his first round games in Oz; this time Marc survived his attack with a massive material advantage.

2006-07 Australian Open Chess Tournament

In Round 2 some of the titled players made even shorter work of their opponents, as Rogers was only marginally quicker in putting away Michael Wei than Zhao with Dizdarevic. They did both have the forces of light; with the forces of darkness Bluvstein was slower, but eventually won an ending against Roger Farrell. Rujevic and Johansen were similarly successful as Black, while Goldenberg (White) again took much longer but won one of the last games to finish against Mos Ali. Only Antic really struggled, very lucky to escape after being a piece for two pawns down as Black against Jason Hu; Jason could have trapped the Black king in a mating net but misplayed it and let him escape, losing another pawn along the way and eventually the game. Vladimir Smirnov joined the titled players on 2/2 by making hard work of a won rook and pawn ending against Adrian Flitney (but eventually winning); he was joined there by Dusan Stojic (who beat Hamish Selnes) and Andrew Brown, who upset Gareth Oliver after the latter blundered his queen (trapped) with 6...Qxb2 (“never take the queen knight pawn with your queen...”).

The Minor - Round 1

Among the various supporting events at the 2006-07 Australian Open Chess festival is the Minor, an event for players rated under 1600 held over 6 rounds on the first 4 days of the festival. Played at the unusual Fischer time control of 80 minutes per player with a 20 second increment, this event is being held with 1 round on Day 1 (28/12), two on each of Days 2 and 3 and one on Day 4. Top seed is Victorian junior Samuel Dalton (1584), followed by another junior, ACT local Emma Guo (1535); but they are being challenged by a crop of fellow juniors, a total of 11 representing nearly half the field of 24 players!

Such events seem to produce more than the usual share of early upsets, and this one has been no exception – the top two seeds both lost on the first day! Samuel Dalton was stunned by the dangerous (but somewhat erratic) local Allen Setiabudi, who won a rook and pawn ending as Black by exploiting his strong protected passed e-pawn and weak white pawns. Meanwhile Emma Guo was doing well, a pawn up in a rook and opposite coloured bishop ending against another improving ACT junior, James Li. James tried a sneaky trick sacrificing his bishop, giving Emma a choice of two recaptures; taking with the king won, but sadly for Emma she chose instead the recapture that walked into mate in one and lost! Lower down, Tony Baldwin went from being two pawns up to being a queen for a rook down when his opponent, Jennie Nicholson, queened her a-pawn; in the end Tony, with some extra pawns and a solid blockading position, was more than happy to draw...

Round 2 today was just as tough for the higher seeds, as this time seeds 3, 6 and 7 all lost, and seed 4 only drew! Third seed Eric Staak was a pawn down but in a locked rook and pawn ending against Valsalan Karayi; it should have been drawn, but Eric unaccountably moved his blockading rook and lost... James Li continued his good run by upsetting sixth seed Joshua Dalton, as did Allen Setiabudi against seventh seed Joe Marks. Fourth seed Avram Buciu drew a very drawn rook and pawn ending (equal pawns, symmetrical pawn structure) against Laurie Dalton. All this meant that of the top seven seeds, only fifth seed Edward Xing was on 2/2; he was joined there by Karayi, Li and Allen Setiabudi.

So to Round 3, and Allen Setiabudi was alone in the lead on 3/3 after winning an intriguing game against Edward Xing. As pawns were sacrificed first one side appeared to be ahead, then the other; Edward then sacrificed a piece for an attack, despite being left with just a queen and bishop; but Allen crossed him up by sacrificing the piece back to safeguard his king, then trapping Edward's king in a mating net with his queen and opposite coloured bishop and winning! In another fascinating game on Board 2, Valsalan Karayi took a perpetual check against James Li. Having earlier blundered a pawn, he won it back and then won another one, and was quite possibly winning when he got scared of his opponent's attack and took the draw. This left Karayi and Li in equal second on 2.5/3 with Mark Wicks, who beat Laurie Dalton.
